Extra info

We bring three own microphones (violin, flute/vocals, bodhrán), they all need phantom power. The vocalists alternate between lead singing, sometimes even within a song. They often sing in harmony as well. This will all be clarified per song on the setlist for the sound technician.

The piano is electrical. The guitar is amplified using a DI box, which can be directly connected to a mixer. We have our own DI box, but if a DI is included in the setup, that one can also be used. If no mixer is present, please get in touch to discuss how to amplify the guitar/the band. N.B. We do not own any monitors or P.A..

Ideally we have 2 or 3 monitors that can be controlled independently.
